

Social Media Disclosure

Investors, our customers, and others interested in Windstream should note that we announce material financial and operational information concerning the company via the investor relations section of our website, press releases, SEC filings, public conference calls, and webcasts. Windstream also intends to use its blogs, <http://news.windstream.com/> and Management Perspectives, and Twitter @windstreamIR, @windstreamnews, and @tonythomasWIN [which Tony Thomas, our CEO, may utilize for personal communications and observations, along with company communications] to disclose information concerning Windstream and for complying with our disclosure obligations under Regulation FD. Information we post through the social media channels could be deemed material information. Therefore, we encourage investors to regularly monitor these social media accounts, in addition to our website, press releases, SEC filings, public conference calls, and webcasts. Our list of social media channels may be updated from time to time.
